Michigan State University Introduces the Distinguished Student Awards Office

East Lansing, Mich. – The National/International Fellowships and Scholarships (NIFS) Office has changed its name to The Distinguished Student Awards Office to better reflect its purpose.

The Distinguished Student Awards Office, administered by the Honors College, is dedicated to supporting undergraduate and graduate students pursuing prestigious external awards. Honors College membership is not required to apply.

The Office has helped produce 53 Goldwater Scholars, 20 Rhodes Scholars, 19 Marshall Scholars, 18 Churchill Scholars, and 17 Truman Scholars, among others.

Students can be recommended for awards by faculty, advisors, and peers at studentawards@msu.edu, or through the contact information below.
